bing man wants. Freight cars can be run right up alongside ships. I was here three years ago and inspected what is now the site of the Parr Terminal Company and I am agreeably surprised at the development on the western waterfront.

"In Seattle the city was bonded for $7,500,000 to improve the harbor facilities and after paying expenses and charging off 3% per cent for depreciation, there is not one dollar left made in one year. The possibilities of harbor development are very great and Oakland cannot do better than to improve her waterfront."

Joseph Bisagno Will Admitted to Probate

The will of Joseph Bisagno, wealthy Alameda county resident, who died several weeks ago leaving his estate variously estimated at from $300,000 to $500,000, and who remembered 102 friends in his will, was admitted to probate today by Judge Lincoln S. Church. The will divided the estate into 350 parts and left from one to ten shares to the various beneficiaries. Judge Quinn, County Clerk Gross, Marlois, John, the actress and various other well-known persons were among those remembered.

Northern Idaho were the chief sufferers.

As a further coal conservation measure the most severe curtailment of passenger train service ever known was effective today with extension of the federal railroad administration's "train miles" having the order already was operating in the order already was operating in the coast region. It was estimated 15,000 tons of coal would be saved daily by it and that until the end of the present week it would be necessary to save an additional 20,000 train miles daily.

FIVE DISAPPEAR IN WYOMING BLIZZARD
DENVER, Colo., Dec. 10.—Five persons who disappeared in a blizzard Sunday, somewhere between Denver and Cheyenne, were being sought by searching parties early today. Friends, alarmed at the disappearance of G. H. Bentz, his wife and two-year-old child, and J. Shawalter and wife, all of Cheyenne, left the Wyoming city late yesterday in two automobiles, carrying food and first aid supplies.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 10.—Four known dead, hundreds homeless and property damage running into thousands of dollars, was the toll today from floods in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

Train service was badly crippled. Rivers and smaller streams swollen by rains since Saturday were overflowing their banks into the lowlands.

Train service into Meridian, Miss., was reported almost at a standstill while the Southern railway between Atlanta and Macon was annulling trains as a result of several washouts.

Heavy damage due to washing away of bridges and houses along the Chattahoochee was reported from Lagrange, Ga. The report also stated that West Point, sixteen miles west of Lagrange, is completely inundated.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA BLANKETED BY SNOW.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

REDDING, Dec. 10.—Northern California is under a blanket of snow today. From Tehama county north the Oregon line, snow fell last night, varying from a few inches to several feet in Bennett, Shasta county. There is a foot of snow on the ground in this city.

In company with the rest of the State, Oakland still fails to reach the abundant rainfall figure to December 10 which was achieved last year or even the much lower figure which the normal of twenty years past establishes. Rainfall throughout California, according to Weather Bureau figures, stands below the normal in considerable way and the same condition prevails here, according to THE TRIBUNE gauge.

Precipitation in Oakland up to 8 o'clock this morning was .82 for the 24 hours just past. It was an even 100% for the season to date since July 1. Up to this time in December last year the seasonal rainfall was 10.59 inches. Normal rainfall in Oakland to this date for the season is 5.73 inches.

The unusually heavy seasonal rainfall up to December 10 of last year, according to District Forecast E. E. Beals, was caused by the pronounced storms of September and November, during which 4.60 inches of rain fell.

In San Francisco the seasonal precipitation to this morning was 3.9 inches, as against 10.59 last year. Normal rainfall in San Francisco to this date is 5.15 inches.

Despite the heavy autumnal rains of last year, the season finally ended with the total precipitation considerably under normal. The preceding year was that of a notable drought during which only half the normal rain was precipitated.

If the present deficiency continues, this will be the third season in which the rain is below its customary mark.

PASTORS DEBATE ON LABOR CREED

In the discussion that followed Professor Buckham's motion Rev. Patterson declared that a provision should be inserted in the creed which would make members of unions responsible for alleged "damage" done by them during their strikes. Dr. George W. Hinman, mission worker of the conference, made a last appeal that the association should remain neutral.

More discussion resulted in an amendment to Professor Buckham's motion by Rev. Leland D. Rathbone, secretary of the conference, that the committee of three that drafted the creed be enlarged by as many more "not of the same opinion as those already on the body." The compromise was adopted unanimously.

"I for one am willing to delay action in order that the committee may be enlarged," said Rev. Ernest

UNCEASING WAR ON SKIN CANCER DECLARED BY U.C.

Unceasing war against cancer has been declared by the University of California. Four hundred milligrams of radium are to be purchased at once and added to the university hospital's present stock of 250 milligrams, according to decisions of the experts' committee. This will permit the doctors at the hospital to treat all cases of skin cancer that may appear, and it will make no difference whether the afflicted have the money to pay for the treatment or not.

The 250 milligrams on hand are in crystalline form, the regents were told yesterday. Of the 200 milligrams which were converted into solution in which form it is immediately available for treatment. The additional 400 milligrams is to be purchased at Pittsburgh, Pa.

NOLAN EXPECTS TO END STRIKE

The outlook for settlement of all differences between the unions and the shipyard employees is bright, according to Congressman John T. Nolan, who has come from Washington to take a hand in the local strike situation.

The course of negotiations leading to this conclusion has not been revealed. Fred G. McNeely, secretary of the California Metal Trades Association, and Frank C. Miller, secretary of the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council, said they had not yet conferred with the congressman.

Nolan expressed his optimism in a speech yesterday before the directors of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The Metal Trades Association announced that 12,130 men are now at work in the bay shipyards.

POLICE SEEK MAN ACCUSED WITH WOMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—The police are searching throughout the state for Henry Clay Bernard, automobile salesman, accused, with Mrs. Violette Potter Kruttschnitt arrested Monday night and now at liberty on bail, under a charge of falsifying her insurance statement at the time her Mill Valley house was burned last October.

Bernard, it is said, was friendly with Mrs. Kruttschnitt, and the police say that furniture listed as being burned in the fire was stored by him prior to the date of the fire.

MAUD TABOR FIFTH WIFE OF UNDERTAKER

LAWTON, Mich., Dec. 10.—Joseph Virgo, the undertaker who is alleged to have married Maud Tabor, dead Lawton school teacher, before her mysterious death in December of 1916, was mercilessly grilled at the coroner's inquest into Miss Tabor's death today and was forced to admit the failure of testimony given at an previous hearing.

Through the presentation before the court of marriage licenses, Virgo was compelled to admit six marriages, whereas he had previously declared he had been married only once.

Miss Tabor, he testified, was fifth in his chain of matrimonial ventures.

Most of his marriages he testified, were "compulsory."

Virgo was questioned also regarding his knowledge of undertaking and the manner in which he was drawn from him that he had met a physician and attended his various wives at child birth. He declared that rigor mortis sets in when a body has been dead three hours and that it would be impossible after that for an aged woman to handle it.

YREKA, Dec. 10.—Local interest in the case of Mrs. Sarah Tabor and her son, Walter Tabor, confined here pending the arrival of the Michigan officials who will take them back to Lawton in connection with the death of Mrs. Tabor's daughter, Maud, became intensified this afternoon when Walter Tabor announced that he desired to consult an attorney.

He sent for J. D. Fairchild, who was closeted with him for an hour.

While Fairchild was not at liberty to divulge the conversation between his client and himself, it is learned that Walter Tabor reiterated in detail the remarkable story told by his aged mother in which she stated that her son had died of an overdose of chloroform and that she, the mother, had preserved the body in a trunk because of a pact whereby she and her daughter were to be laid in the earth together.

He came to this country forty years ago and acquired large holdings of land in the Melrose district.

He was prominently connected with the building of Fremont High school and was one of the trustees of the school. Three years ago when the Melrose branch of the Oakland High school was built, he donated the site at Forty-eighth avenue and Foothill boulevard to the city.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cynthia Talcott; a son, Seth; a daughter, Anna, and two grand-children, Talcott and Janet Grawe.

George McNulty, secretary and business agent of the riggers and stevedores' union, said that his strikers had reported less than 100 men at work.

The most important development, Captain Saunders said, was that the employers would deal hereafter on a closed shop basis, employing only members of the new organization. He declared the report that the employers would operate on an open shop basis was erroneous. His statement was an intimation that the riggers' and stevedores' union would be eliminated from further participation in affairs affecting waterfront workers.

TRIBUNE Carrier Boys Will Stage Christmas Party

CHRISTMAS FUND IS SHORT $1500

The allies of Kris Kringle, who promised that every man, woman and child—700 of them—in the county infirmary near San Leandro and Arroyo Sanitarium near Livermore, shall have a Christmas with not only good cheer and sweetmeats, but a comfort as well, began the round of visiting on Sunday. A personal call will be made on each of the 700 by some member of the County Institutions' Christmas Committee to learn what particular thing it is that each most desires. "Wish Cards" have been the forerunner of the visits, suggesting the list of personal comforts from which each may choose. It is a comprehensive and cosy list, too, which any man and any woman might be happy to tuck away.

Sunday, the men's visiting committee will spend the day at the county infirmary. Monday, Mrs. Walter D. Cole and those who are associated with her, will begin the rounds at Arroyo Sanitarium.

Where the finances which are needed to carry forward the two ambitious Christmas parties with their trees and decorations in mind, is still in doubt, for but $1,325.50 of the $3000 budget has been received. With more than $1500 still to be found, an urgent appeal is made to the public to send contributions to the County Institutions' Christmas Fund to E. F. Garrison, Hall of Records, Oakland, and help make the Christmas a happy day for all.

In the meantime, plans are going forward right merrily for the decorations. Mrs. Horwinski is assembling a program of stunts to offer at the infirmary and Miss Ethel M. Storrs is arranging a program for Arroyo.

Additional contributions sent to the County Institutions' Christmas Committee follow:

Outflow of Silver Dollars Is to Stop

Federal Reserve banks will handle foreign exchange hereafter and as a result the United States treasury in San Francisco was discontinued at Washington yesterday to discontinue the exchange of silver dollars for gold.

Gold certificates, half-dollars, quarters or smaller change will be exchanged for gold, but silver dollars will be exchanged only for silver certificates.

The demand for silver dollars for export because of the rise in the price of silver which made the demand of silver in a dollar worth more than a dollar, is due to the growing distrust of Chinese and Hindus of paper currency. According to the custom house records, 1,300,000 silver dollars were exported from San Francisco in the ten days ending November 30. The entire shipment was exported to China, where American silver dollars are in great demand.

Silver dollars held by the subscribers were sufficient to supply the local demand by silver certificates, but not the export demand in exchange for gold, according to officials.

Wife Charges Forgery In Divorce Complaint

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—Forgery charges against Attorney R. P. Troy were made in the divorce suit of Mrs. Horriense S. Troy, widow of Senator Stephen M. White, Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, testified that parts of letters supposed to be from Mrs. Troy to her husband, the attorney, had been falsified. These referred principally to division of property.

The case has been on trial for seven months, in which time Troy has introduced evidence 304 letters from his wife.

Troy today took up the cross-examination of the handwriting expert.

Stop Whipping Bowels into Activity, but take "Cascarets"

Put aside the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil, or Purgative Waters that irritate and lash the bowel into action—such as those that are not thorough, cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels which are keeping you half sick, headache and miserable.

Cascarets taste well and you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripes, sickness or cause inconvenience. Cascarets cost so little, too!—Advertisement.

OLD AGE DEFERRED

"A woman as old as she looks, and a man as old as he feels," is a familiar saying and is full of meaning nowadays. Women of all ages dress young, and men are active as long as strength and vitality will permit; but when vitality gets low and elderly people lack energy there is nothing that will invigorate the appetite, prevent constipation and give you surely and quickly as Vinol, the root liver and iron tonic without oil—in fact, most druggists have such confidence in it that they sell it on a guarantee. PISTOL WIELDER CAUSES FRIGHT TO PASSENGERS

Because of a dime, Mike Babette and G. Samiso spent last night in the Oakland jail and many passengers on the Oakland-bound ferryboat Newark at 7:20 last evening have not recovered entirely from the fright the two men caused them.

Samiso, waving a revolver and shouting wildly, ran through the big crowd of commuters in pursuit of Babette who, he said, had failed to pay him a dime that he owed him. Samiso finally was disarmed by J. McIvor, Southern Pacific detective. Both men are employed by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. Samiso lives at 1726 Fifteenth street, Oakland, and Babette at 1649 Seventh street.

LEGION VOTES TO EXCLUDE JAPANESE

Japanese exclusion was favored by the Post of the American Legion in resolutions adopted last night. The post endorsed the stand of the national convention protesting at the "gentlemen's agreement" by which children born of foreign parents in this country are granted citizenship.

It was opposed.

The post voted against racism and incendiarism and it was decided to name an Americanization committee of five members.

The post voted to join the city officials in their attempt to bring General Pershing to Oakland for a day on his projected western trip.

Major William D. Babbee, recently returned from service in Germany, addressed the legion on the work done by Germany in this country to overcome prejudices against German-made goods. More than $1,000,000 had been spent to this end since the armistice, he said.

WOMAN WINS FREEDOM WHEN NAME WHISPERED

The "mystery woman," as the police know her, whispered her name today in the ear of Ella M. Flynn, Oakland probation officer, and won her freedom.

When arrested on a charge of issuing spurious checks, the woman gave the name of Mrs. A. G. Davis. Lawyer she admitted was not her real name, but said she would not reveal her identity as it would bring disgrace on a son prominent in California.

The probation officer, after the whispered confidence, recommended to Police Judge Samuels that the case be referred to the probation department. Judge Samuels made the cause returnable December 15, whatever the result, the "mystery woman" will be free at Christmas time.

Rumors about the city hall that Henry C. Henken, chief clerk in the City Treasurer's office of William Fitzmaurice, would be named as successor to Ralph C. York in the office of chief clerk in the department of Commissioner of Public Works Frederick Soderberg were substantiated last night when Commissioner Soderberg gave the Civil Service Board power to appoint the Civil Service Board to approve Henken's temporary appointment.

The approval of the board to the appointment was granted and arrangements made to hold an examination for the permanent filling of the position later. Mr. Henken whose present status that of chief clerk in the lower grade, will fill the position when the examination is held, and under a recent ruling of the Civil Service Board he will be eligible to take the examination.

The appointment of Henken is taken to mean a reorganization of the Department of Public Works which has been disrupted since a breach several months ago between Commissioner Soderberg and his chief clerk, Ralph York. After failing to secure York's dismissal from the Civil Service Board, Commissioner Soderberg declined to consent to York's being transferred to another department under a new name when he left York off and the latter was at once appointed chief clerk under Commissioner of Streets William J. Beaus.

Two other positions recently created in the Department of Public Works remain unfilled, that of architectural draughtsman and superintendent of buildings. It is expected, however, that Commissioner Soderberg will not appoint a superintendent of buildings because of the appointment of Henken, for some time ago he announced that the new position would not be necessary if a chief clerk could be secured who could handle both positions.

A Modern Fireproof Hospital

A good investment but more.

The most vital need of the East Bay Community

One wealthy Oakland man said to our representative: "This proposition does not interest me, of course, it will be a help to the doctors connected with it, but I cannot see how I am to benefit."

"What's the matter with Oakland anyhow? It's always behind in putting through modern projects."

The matter with Oakland is just such men as the though they have made their money here expect others to provide improvements.

Where will he go when sick? He is too used to luxury to be satisfied with what we now can offer in hospitals.

REVELATIONS of a WIFE by ADELE GARRISON.

My heart sang as I made my way solo down to the room where I had seen Lillian go into the rosebush nest of a room where her little daughter lay sleeping and close the door.

The she would really sleep as I had conjectured, so I waited.
I shrewdly guessed that her thoughts were too full of Robert Savarin for her to be able to lose herself in sleep. But she would rest, with her mind free from housewifely cares about the comfort of the coming guests, and the work of achievement in itself. And Lillian's words of commendation—of recognition that my mental attitude had radically changed—were like wine to me.

The kitchen was in the spotless order in which Lillian always kept it. I was familiar with all the ap-parelments because I had met Lillian to get up several impromptu suppers in it upon Betty's evenings off.

The door leading to the colored woman's bedroom across a little passage was open. With infinite pains
I closed it, and then, tip-toeing softly around the room, I went to the kettle on the top, and, lighting the gas, rang it over the fire place.
Then, after one or two other simple preparations, I ran noiselessly up the back stairs to the hall, and thence to the room of death.

Katherine came out of the room,
closing and locking the door behind her, just as I had run out. She put the key in her pocket and smiled at me wistfully, but bravely.

THE GRAY ROUND.

"My poor girl," I said, putting my arm around her, for she looked so weary and spent that I feared she might swoon. "What can I do to help you and where is the physician?"

She smiled again at the note of impatience in my voice.

"You have the right idea of the duty and importance which doth hedge a physician," she said. "Dr.
Holmes was very kind, very considerate, but, of course, he left shortly after Mrs. Morton died."

"And I've been alone ever since," I exclaimed, with a sudden vision of all the gruesome duties that must have been hers in the last hours or two.

"I used to use it," she said in a matter-of-fact manner, and I realized as never before the round of gray sombre tasks which make up the life of a trained nurse.

Lillian insisted upon staying with me, but we knew we were both so afraid that Marion might waken and miss her mother that I finally prevailed upon her to go downstairs. How is Marion?"

"Sound asleep," I answered, "and Lillian is with her. I have the kettles on and am going to get breakfast for our guests. But first give me a kiss."

"Let me go downstairs to the kitchen and help you," she pleaded.
"I couldn't sleep now—honestly, I couldn't. I'd see all sorts of horrors."

"I'll be with you until I've had a coffee. I don't want anything else."

I knew that she needed rest somewhat, but I also realized that her brain and heart were so filled with Jack's unreasonable conduct that she probably couldn't sleep so soon after the experience of the night. I could also imagine that she craved living companionship after her enforced companionship with death. So I made no more protest, and turned with her toward the stairs.

AN INDIGNANT INTERRUPTION.

"I'll bathe my hands and face and be with you in two minutes," she said, disengaging herself. "But whatever are you going to do when Peter discovers you are in the kitchen?"

"The kitchen isn't big enough to hold us both, but I'm sure he'll be more considerate than I felt, for the old colored woman was a masterine in culinary matters, brooking
no interference in her own domain—

Lillian's kitchen.

"I wish you joy of your job," Katherine retorted, disappearing into the bathroom.

The old colored woman followed my enthusiasm a bit as I again went to the kitchen, and made my move with greater caution than before. The old colored woman had been up unusually late the night before because of Lillian's fits for me. I could see from her manner when she let me in that she blamed me for her enforced silence. If our movements wakened her now, before her usual rising time, I could imagine her puerile wrath.

Katherine soon joined me, and I was glad to see that the humorously aspect of our thieving about the kitchen trying to cook breakfast was still with us. The old colored woman sauntered to her, struck her with sufficient force to knock her mind from the things that had been worrying her. "We" began to make quite an event of our enterprise, and once or twice caught ourselves giggling under our breath like boarding school girls encased in a mud-tight closet.

Just Folks

ABOUT GRUMBLERS

I hear men whimper an' complain
About the way the world is run.
On sunny days they sigh for rain.
And when it rains they want the sun.
"We're runnin' things," they say, There'd be much less o' grief an'
wrong.
"We'd keep the clouds o' care away
An' life would be one round o'
song."

Yet in the homes where they abide
As lords an' masters day by day,
The women folks are solely tried.
The children are not always gay;
The grounds are often bleak an' bare;
The trees struggling by the fence.

Ask the Tribune A department of QUESTION & ANSWER

(Editor's Note: Questions pertaining to the application of the law to specific instances where possibility of obtaining damages is in mind, will not be answered in this column. In such cases a lawyer should be consulted.)

Editor THE TRIBUNE: Will you kindly tell me if there is a premium on an 1814 fifty-cent piece? —G. W. MARKS, 817 Fifty-fifth St.

According to local dealers in old coins, there is no premium on this issue. The latest premium list offers no premium on any of the fifty-cent pieces from 1787-1828. On the issue of 1848 there is a premium of $12.

Editor THE TRIBUNE: Will you kindly tell me the present location of Second Infantry, U. S. A.—CONSTANT SUBSCRIBER.

According to officers of the Western department, in San Francisco, this regiment is now stationed at Camp Dodge, Iowa.

Editor THE TRIBUNE: Will you kindly answer the following: (1) If the white slip that is given with a marriage license is lost and the ceremony performed and the next day the couple get a duplicate copy of the slip with the date on the slip, license and certificate all corresponding to the day the duplicate copy of slip was obtained—is the marriage legal? (2) Can a wife be properly under married name given to her by husband? —AND OLD READER.

(1) We assume that the "white slip" you refer to is the certificate of marriage. According to law no marriage ceremony can be performed without the certificate, as it is to this document that the signatures of the marrying official and the witnesses are affixed. If the ceremony was performed and there is no legal record and the marriage appears to be illegal. However, we refer you to the district attorney's office for an official ruling. The law provides that where a marriage is illegal through incompleteness of record, it may be legalized by certification before a superior judge within a year of the date of the alleged marriage.

(2) Property debts to the wife by her husband may be held in her own name.

Beauty Talks

In summing up beauty, nothing is more attractive than a clear, fresh, fast, put on your comfortable walk-skin. It need not be pink and white—or have the delicacy of a baby's skin. If it is clear and transparent, it is a really healthy skin always is and free from blotches, it cannot be forty-five minutes. If you can walk an hour before breakfast, or an hour immediately after break-neither has much color, try this:

a while, pressing it more closely at again.

cold water. If possible, wrap a piece of ice and rub it on your

S. F. Is Proposed as Ship Control Center

With San Francisco bay as the headquarters of one of the associations, regional associations to operate the American merchant marine are proposed in a referendum of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and endorsement of the project has been given by the Chamber of Commerce of this city.

The suggestion was brought before the directors of the Oakland chamber yesterday afternoon on recommendation of the laws and legislation committee. The committee made two alterations in the plan as submitted—that the United States in selling shipping board vessels of less than 600 tons, give preference to American buyers over foreigners, and that provision be made for as-

BALL TO BENEFIT FRENCH ORPHANS

Booths presided over by young women of the societies of the French colony will be an attraction at the benefit ball to be held in the Municipal Auditorium Saturday evening to raise funds for the maintenance of the French war orphans. Besides the dance program the committee is arranging for a number of special events that will add to the pleasure of the evening. The booths and boxes will be gaily decorated with French and American flags.

Soldiers who fought in France will be among the guests of honor at the ball. Every society under the Franco-American Benevolent League of Alameda county is striving to make the benefit one of the big charitable successes of the season. In addition to the entertainment booths there will be a booth in charge of George Meyer, secretary of the league, in which will be displayed scores of photographs of French war orphans, together with the government records pertaining to their history.

An opportunity will be given to persons interested in the matter to obtain information regarding the "adoption" of an orphan.

The committee in charge of the feature events of the ball is headed by Madame J. Baits and includes Miss Anna Bernadou, Miss Helen Fleut, Miss Clemence Tocquet and assistants.

FOES OF LICENSE TAX LINED UP

Unanimous opposition to the proposed occupational license ordinance, which comes before the city council next Monday morning, was voted by committees representing various bodies in this city at a meeting of the Merchants' Exchange last night.

It was decided that each body represented circulate among its members a petition protesting against the proposed ordinance, the same to be presented to the city council on Monday, when a large committee of business men will be present to voice their disapproval of an occupational license, which is held to be double taxation.

A meeting of the committee will be held at the offices of the Merchants' Exchange next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The civil service board announced would take the case under advisement, but indicated no preferential rights would be given.

Following the completion of the inspection of papers in the recent examinations for Lieutenant in the police department and for junior stenographers, the board ordered the list of successful candidates posted last night. The list will be on the boards tomorrow.

Be Young for Your Years

You were taught at school that your body undergoes a complete change of structure every seven years.

This tearing down and building up process of body tissue continues without a moment's pause throughout life.

And when a man gets into a physical condition that the tissues keep breaking down and wasting away faster than Nature can replace them, right then he begins to grow "old".

This doesn't necessarily mean, however, that he has reached an advanced age. Thousands upon thousands of people begin to break down, their vital organs giving evidence of fast approaching decay, long before they reach middle age simply because they fail to give Nature, at the proper time, the needed help to rebuild.

If you are beginning to show the slightest sign of a physical "let-down"—if you are losing your old time "pep" vim and vigor—if high tension energy and nervous strain are begin-

FIREBUGS AGAIN ENDANGER HALL

The third incendiary attempt against Alcatraz hall, Peralta street, Seventh street, in a week, was discovered this morning when the fire department was summoned to extinguish a rubbish fire under a rear stairway of the building this morning.

Chief Elliot Whitehead discovered a note near where the rubbish was burning signed the White Mask. It read:

"If we don't get you this time, we will get you the next."

The hall is the meeting place for West Oakland Masonic bodies and is owned by the Alcatraz Hall Association, a corporation. Attendants of the hall told Chief Whitehead that the other day a fire was set covered in the hall within the past week but was extinguished without aid from the fire department.

Police will investigate the attempts to destroy the building.

EXPEDITE COAST SURVEY WORK.

For the twentieth time within as many years
the government and Congress have been reminded of the perilous inadequacy of the surveys and charts of Pacific Coast waters, and of the urgency of expediting the work of making the coastal waters safe for navigation. As we recall an estimate of two or three years ago, it will require something like 200 years to complete the survey of the Pacific Coast, unless the present rate of progress is accelerated.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey calls attention to the situation in the report of the Secretary of Commerce made public yesterday. The vessels and personnel to bring the surveys of Pacific waters up to a proper standard have never been available. The charts are incomplete, and the information shown on many of them is from exploration surveys by the Russians before Alaska was acquired by the United States, and "with a lack of exactness that would not be tolerated at the present time." These charts and the necessary dependence upon them or the equally safe or dangerous course of ignoring them, has been responsible for many ship disasters.

The charts of the waters of the Pacific Coast States, California, Oregon and Washington, do not contain sufficient information for off-shore navigation. The coast survey calls timely attention to the fact that heretofore the vessels that have plied United States waters have been largely of foreign registration and therefore losses on account of inadequate surveys have been borne to a considerable extent by others. But American vessels have increased from a gross tonnage of 8,871,000 tons on June 30, 1917, to a gross tonnage of 12,907,000 on June 30, 1919. Going back a little further, the seagoing ships of 1000 tons or over under the American flag on June 30, 1914, amounted to 2,128,000 gross tons; on June 30, 1919, they totaled 7,300,000 gross tons. Here is a net gain of 5,000,000 gross tons, three and one-half times the tonnage of the same class in 1914.

The need, therefore, for speeding up the work of surveying and charting the coastal waters is more urgent than it ever was. Losses of ships and lives at sea have in the past been heavy. The figures are on file under numerous headings with both Congress and the Department of Commerce.
When will a comprehensive program for completing the work be approved and put into execution?

In these days of "proletarian" effort to control
affairs, filial piety is being dealt a hard blow in Europe. Bolshevik partisans must blush to think of the low intelligence and quiet, honest
character of their fathers and grandfathers.

The charge that Carranza aims to offend the United States government has become mild-mannered. It seems that he has been aiming to overthrow it.

FEDERAL BUDGET REFORM PROPOSALS

The present method of providing funds for support of the government is so bad that there was ample excuse for the general aspects of the passage b
the House of Representatives, or the agreement of the President. The House bill, No. 128 to so on, was a good one, but it seemed to be assumed that the Senate would prefer another way for the budget. Senator McCormick sets out in his bill, "I think the bill is better than none, but it does not fit the situation. There should be excess of haste in accepting the first proposal. An change made now is likely to stand for a long time, and a little delay is preferable to acceptance of anything short of the best amendment that can be had."

The House proposal came from outside sources of theoretical nature, and it is impossible to pin affairs. The Senate, however, is not academic. For it has the up-to-date knowledge and comes from the school of practical experience. The difference between the two bills is that the draftsmen of the House bill shrank from putting the powers over the budget in the Treasury. The Senate bill prefers enlarging the powers of the Treasury to overburdening the executive with details of financial operations. The House bill implied, if not intended, a surprise of the voters at the election. It is the duty of the whole executive to propose the budget, and its proposal is left to Congress, from which, in fact, it cannot be taken, and where it could be left. In proportion that the proposal is excellent, it will be difficult for Congress to criticise it in its amendment, which is made a conspicuous procedure.

Perhaps out of the rivalry between the houses there was a bill better than that of the other Senator.
McCormick himself mentions one omission—the provision of better methods of audit. He thinks that there is need of codification of the two-score statutes which now cover the matter, and of closer relations between the auditor and the executive. At the time of his orders of service in the 90th Congress, he had a number of secretaries of state, and the disappearance of which was due to the political reasons which long ago were brought about with the disappearance from public life of the actors in that incident. There is no little novelty in the present measures that they may be proposed to restore to the Treasury what it had many lives. The fiction and the hope that they are less dangerous have led to less substantial construction of steamers for the lake service.

HELP FIGHT DISEASE.

The report of the Rockefeller foundation describes briefly the work it carried out in France during 1918 for the prevention and amelioration of tuberculosis. The manner in which it got its message over to the people was both interesting and instructive to the French people, as it was new to them.

Three traveling exhibits and groups of lecturers visited ten departments and in 141 towns of 3000 or more population delivered 515 lectures.
In the same period 2,115,708 pieces of printed matter, posters, pamphlets, post cards and games were widely distributed throughout the whole of France. A series of twenty-four articles on tuberculosis appeared in thirty-three important provincial newspapers. The commission's publicity material, written by French men and women, and charmingly illustrated by French artists,
has set a new standard for popular public health education.

A campaign of extension has reached twenty-seven departments. Representatives of the commission and of the American Red Cross have visited leading towns and cities in a systematic effort to organize local communities and to induce these groups to establish dispensaries as the first step toward a complete plan for the control of tuberculosis. In the twenty-seven departments, at the time of the first visit, twenty-one dispensaries were already in existence. By the end of the year fifty-seven new dispensaries had been opened, twenty other dispensaries were in process of installation, and plans for forty-nine more had been definitely made. Besides these dispensaries fifteen laboratories were arranged for, thirty eight new nurses installed, and forty-two new and active committees organized.

The new message was substantially this: "No one, O, Frenchman, has excelled you in the scientific study of tuberculosis. But it is not enough that your scientists combat this disease. Each one of you must take part in the battle, must benefit from the knowledge acquired and perform in his turn the office of educator."

The French government cooperated in this campaign of information, and the French people responded to it with an earnest desire to help themselves avoid the white plague. France will be greatly benefited, because knowledge and information is one of the most effective methods of combating disease.

In the United States there are organizations pursuing with equal earnestness the purpose to help the people and to lead them to help them selves in fighting tuberculosis. They do not stand out so conspicuously as the Rockefeller crusaders did in France, but they are nevertheless working hard and patiently. They need the help of their fellow citizens. This is a fitting time to extend them aid, financial and moral. Buy the seals of the Anti Tuberculosis Society and help save somebody from becoming a white plague victim.

An Austrian statesman says it was pigs that started the world war. Had he used the more inclusive word "swine" he would have been taken seriously, but as it is he is merely a gruesome display of a painful effort to create forced gaiety
in a tragic situation.

In these days of "proletarian" effort to control
affairs, filial piety is being dealt a hard blow in Europe. Bolshevik partisans must blush to think of the low intelligence and quiet, honest
character of their fathers and grandfathers.

The charge that Carranza aims to offend the United States government has become mild-mannered. It seems that he has been aiming to overthrow it.

men. Hence the Soviets cannot have peace.

NOTES AND COMMENT

It is proposed to simplify procedure in connection with the deportation of undesirable aliens. The simplification of all procedure with regard to them is necessary if "redism" is to be effectively stamped out.

The Committee of Forty-eight is another of those organizations that has incurred the suspicion of the American Legion. It was to meet in St Louis, but was "in" so bad that owners and agents of halls would not supply it a place to meet. The American Legion is becoming a great force in discouraging the seditionist, both of the crude and the parlour type.

The devious way of litigation is illustrated in the famous Sacramento springer case. Seven years ago the city sued a street car company to enforce an ordinance which required the company to sprinkle its tracks. The case mounted up through the lower courts, and finally reached the Supreme Court of the United States, which has just held that the street car company must sprinkle. In the meantime, if Sacramento has followed other cities, the street has been bituminized, and doesn't need to be sprinkled.

LaFollette can still be relied on to throw sand in the gear. The passage of the Cullinan railroad bill through the Senate was held up by his demand for a quorum after the bill had been passed, but before the result could be announced. The move is not stated, but LaFollette does not always have to have a move.

A devious news item tells how Roy Harrison of San Francisco has been sentenced to a term of two years in the county jail for shooting his mother-in-law. It thus appears that shooting mothers-in-law is getting into a class with shooting quail out of season. Both, however, are more serious than running over a person with an automobile.

"Wilson tells Senate that he will handle the Mexico situation alone." It would be all right if he was the only one affected. Unfortunately, other Americans are being plundered, imprisoned, harried and killed down there, which exceeds the interest. It really seems to be a matter of national concern.

Vandals who go out anywhere and cut evergreen trees and strip bushes of red berries regardless of the wishes and protests of owners are being made to understand the law. There seems to be less regard for private property than ever. Maybe it is because of the Bolshevik wave that is sweeping over parts of the earth, and an eddy of which is reaching us.

From what has been made public of the aims and efforts of the I. W. W., there is no warrant for doubting the report of their purpose to incite negroes to an uprising. It is an uncomfortable knowledge, for there would be grave possibilities if the insidious propaganda in this direction should succeed.

Modern America has an established custom of spreading Christmas cheer, too. In the Red Cross Christmas seal the message of the Christ-Child has a practical application. The little stamp which is sold for a penny apiece are an inseparable part of an American Christmas.

FROM A TAXPAYER

To the Editor of The Tribune:

The taxpayers take note of a proposition recently sprouted to buy an extensive piece of real estate, and thereon build a new and architecturally beautiful courthouse.

The taxpayers are entirely contented with the old courthouse. They are not discontented, however, with the present load of taxes, and will object strongly to increasing it for a new location and new building, with a real estate speculation working with the wires.

MISSING MAN'S BOAT AND DUCKS FOUND ON BEACH

ALAMEDA, Dec. 10.—With the recovery of a rented boat in which he was last seen and the discovery of ten wooden decoys on the San Leandro beach, the belief is strengthened that the unidentified man in service uniform who rented a boat from Seymour Arada in which to go duck hunting has lost his life. The man is known to have been seen since he put out from Arada's landing several days ago.

It is believed that he was caught in a swift current and his boat capsized during the recent storm.

ROWDY ELLIOTT DOES NOT WANT TO GO TO BROOKLYN

REEVES WILL GET BOUT WITH CHAMPION MIKE O'DOWD IF HE DEFEATS BATTLING ORTEGA

"I WILL PLAY ON THE COAST OR GET OUT OF THE GAME"

—ROWDY ELLIOTT.

As announced exclusively in The TRIBUNE Green last night, Rowdy Elliott will wear Brooklyn spangles in 1920. The deal was started by J. Cal Ewing while in the east attending the minor leagues' convention and was consummated late yesterday afternoon when Brooklyn accepted the local club's terms. The deal calls for Pitcher Lafe McLean being turned over to Oakland and Ewing is also given clear title to Hack Miller, on who the Dodgers had a string.

This will not be Elliott's first appearance in the big league. After serving a term as manager of the teams he was sold to the Cincinnati Reds and performed satisfactorily for one season. Then he was placed on the market and every team in the Coast League bid for his services. Oakland secured him for a little more than $1,000 and he made it look as though Ewing had made a ten strike. Elliott, however, did not play to expectations at any time during the season. He dropped from the top of the players he did in all his previous career and his pegging was wild and woolly. Elliott had just made a trip around Cape Horn in a destroyer before the season opened and may have been responsible for his lack of grace. Rowdy and Manager Howard had several disputes during the season over the former's failure to observe training rules and Del found it necessary to suspend the player two weeks before the final going.

IS GOOD CATCHER
Elliott is a mighty nitty catcher and is a likable fellow with his pep. He is a likelihood to stick in the big league this time it will be his own fault. Henion, who comes here in the Ewing deal, has signed with the Indians and Jack Rouse early last season. Secretary McFarlin sent the pitcher transportation from San Diego, where he lives but the kid signed with the Indians. The Canadian, the Canadian League, Brooklyn bought him late in August and he was considered a fine prospect. Henion is a right-hander with a wonderful assortment of stuff. When he secured clear title to Hack Miller who came to the Oaks through Brooklyn three years ago, when Hack dug out to the minors, he was going to cost some cash, whole lot of money.

There are some other players involved in the Elliott deal but the local club refuses to name them until waivers have been granted.

Basketball

The TRIBUNE Sporting Department has collected all basketball groupings that managers may send in. Dates for games and results will be mailed immediately with our charge.

Managers who desire basketball information are requested to write the Sporting Department and they will be mailed immediately with our charge.

No date has been set for the playing of the first games in the Oakland TRIBUNE basketball league, but it is the belief of the officials that it will be Monday evening, Jan. 14. The league will be organized with thirty-eight teams in the fold, but those at its head want to make sure that everything will be in first class shape to start around the middle of the year without any options. An average of eighteen games a week will be played, with probably a run of five weeks. The league is still open to applicants, but those wanting to be on the inside before the padlock is clicked, had better hurry.

The "Ambrose Tailors" may be one of the new clubs to be formed in the near future, as Ambrose was talking yesterday of entering a team in the unlimited class. When advised where he might pick up some good players, he said, "I don't know. I have heard that players were his last worry, as he has already talked with a number of well-known basketchers who promised to give their services when he entered a team. The Tailors are the courts a few years ago, and were then one of the best quintets in action.

A reward for winning the Pacific Athletic Association 120-pound gold belt was offered to the champion Golds of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. which make a trip to Denver, the latter part of this month. The Golds annexed the championship by defeating the Olympic Club Cardinals in the Olympic Club. The same team is in action this season and enjoying much success. Those on the team are Percy Gilbert, Paddy Brost, Clarence Chandler, Louis McNeely, M. Hutchinson, Ernest Brown and Coach Bob Hager.

The California Cotton Mills quintet has started its season and is out with a challenge to any team of the 145-pound class. Tony Danner is manager and games will be arranged by addressing him at the California Cotton Mills, Kennedy and Railroad avenue, Oakland.

The Sons and Daughters of Washington 145-pound quintet was given its worst beating of the season when it tackled the Spartan 145 team at the latter's court. The fact that the losers could not get out of the ring was the only point on the side, while the Spartans piled up 20. In the second half after Sam Ginter and Wilbur Taylor had replaced Sennell and Young, the Spartans fought for the Spartan crown, the score ending at 63 against 51 for the losers of the final. Wezell, Zentner, Harrington, Sewell, Frost, Ginter and Taylor represented the Spartans.

Alien Tocher, one of the best centers to be found with any of the unlimited teams around here, and captain of the Spartan Trimmers, will be in town Saturday night. The Spartan Saturday night, Alien was unable to get into action last week because of an attack of grippe. Stockton basketball fans are preparing to witness one of the best games of the season at that town when the locals meet the New York Y. M. C. A.

Tomorrow night the Spartans play their big game with the Warriors at the Intercollegiate Auditorium and the streets. The Warriors were handed their first defeat when they

Rowdy Says He Will Not Report To the Dodgers

Rowdy Elliott is nursing a peevishness and says he will not report to Brooklyn.

When told by The TRIBUNE man last night that he had been traded to the Brooklyn Club Elliott asked several questions including:

"Where do they get that stuff at?"

"Ain't I got nothing to say about where I go?"

"Why didn't they tell me something about it first?"

"Trying to drive me out of the league, hub?"

Elliott says the lil' ole Pacific Coast League is plenty good enough for him and he will quit before he goes to the majors again. When told that he belonged to Brooklyn Rowdy called up Secretary Herbie McFarlin and told Herbie what he thought of the deal. Then he got J. Cal Ewing on the phone and orated some more. Elliott was mad clear through and it didn't help his disposition any when some of the boys kidded him about being a baseball slave.

Perhaps Rowdy will change his mind but late last night he was still determined to spend next summer in the west.

Stockton May Be Given Sunday Morning Games

STOCKTON, Cal., Dec. 10.—Stockton will probably be in the California League next season to the extent of Sunday morning games, according to Charles Moreing, one of the new owners of the Sacramento club. The Moreings are former Stockton men.

Moreing will ask for a guarantee of patronage and then put the matter up to the directors of the league.

Secretary Putnam, of the San Francisco Seals, was with Moreing here today looking for a training camp site for that club and announced that conditions here impressed him favorably.

Berkeley High to Play Woodland for Northern Cal. Title

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—California high school football has reached its semi-final stage and the results of games to be played Saturday determine which teams are to compete for the state championship.

Berkeley meets Woodland at Sacramento. Fullerton faces Long Beach. Berkeley plays Chico, Berkeley and Woodland fight for the Northern California championship and the winners of the other two games will battle for the opportunity of taking the northern champion off the Spartans for the first time.

The Athens Athletic club's unlimited basketball team has been putting in some stiff practice of late and are in good shape for the race in the new TRIBUNE basketball league. Wednesday night they rounded around the bay to San Athletic club team of that city. Manager McNeely has written to various teams in and around the bay and expects to work out a good schedule for the next few weeks.

The following players will make the trip Wednesday night: Fullerton, Spencer, center; Brown, guard; Waddell, McNeely, Fitzsimmons and Oates. Any team in the bay section deserves games. The Athens Athletic club team can arrange to meet the D. A. McKenna 549 Thirtieth street, or phone Piedmont 6292.

Johnny Conde and Earl Young Box Earnest Draw

VALLEJO, Dec. 10.—Scoty Watts and Jack Breton packed 'em in at the Airdrome last night when they staged their semi-monthly boxing show and the fans were given an excellent run for their money.

Every boy was given a chance to show what he was over in plenty of time to permit Oakland fans catching the San Francisco boy. There was no holding back here.

In the main event Johnny Conde and Earl Young boxed an earnest draw that was so close that the judge gave the decision to Conde, the other opinion that Young was entitled to the win being held.

Young had figured right. He kept close all the time which prevented Conde from landing many of his punches. The breakaway, the breakaway, the breakaway around the ring. Young carried the fight to the Oakland boy all the time and was entitled to the draw. His achievement alone.

Conde, however, was out-weighted by several pounds.

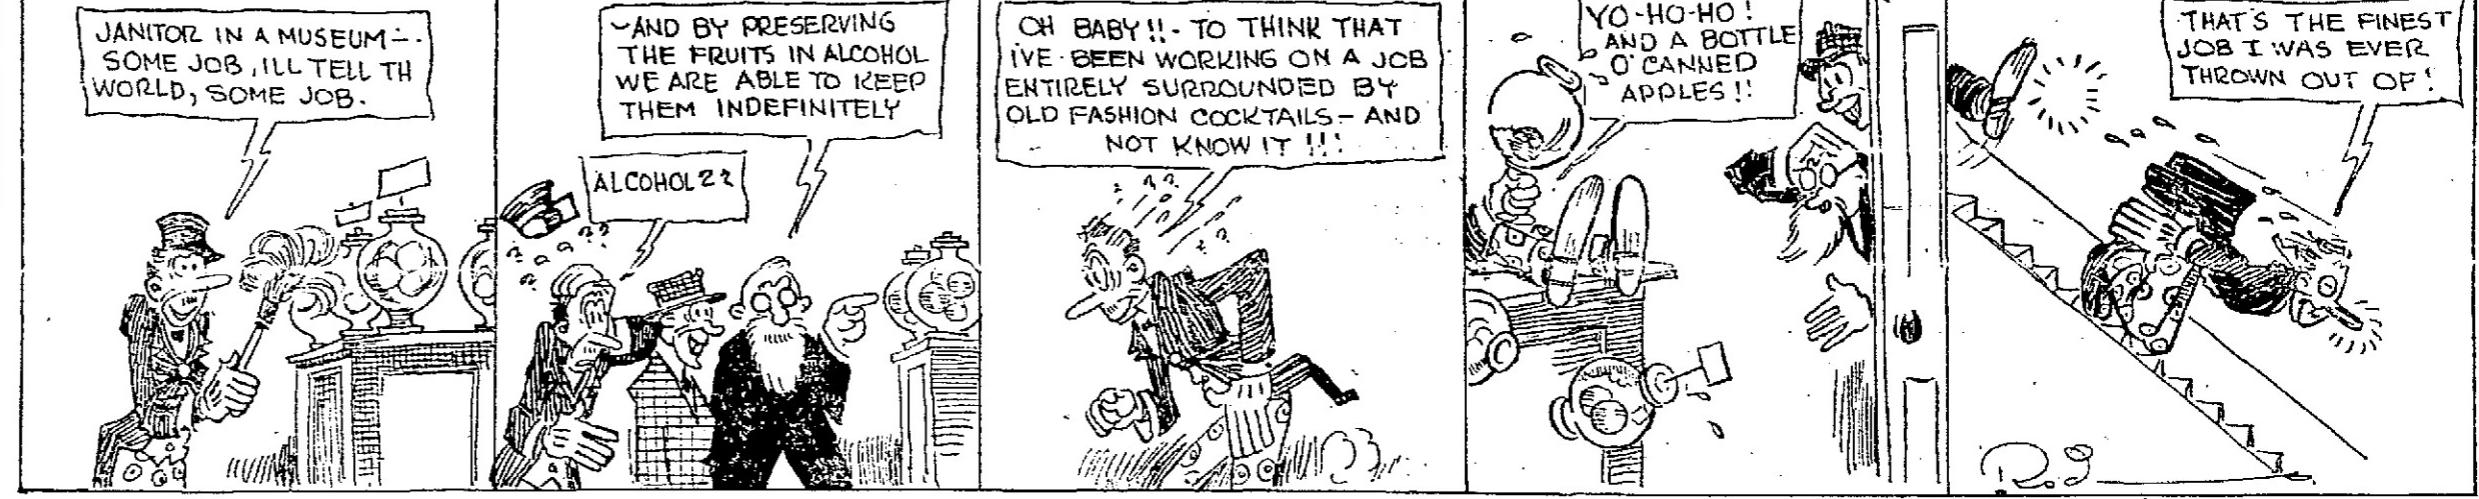

Scoty Watts tumbled up a pair of prospects in Tommy Harris and M. J. McNeely, both from the training camp. Harris was sent in against George Spencer and the game from the lower bay thought it was all off. However, Harris had a different idea and put on a performance that knocked down would have been entitled to a draw. The kid is a shifty performer and with a little more experience and a bit more skill, he will be a third and great boxer.

The final song sounded Spencer landed a short right cross to the chin that made Tommy kiss the canvas.

BATTLING ORTEGA AND JACK REEVES AT THE AUDITORIUM

Jimmy Duffy Will Tackle Johnny Webber, While Bud Ridley Meets Al Walker

By BOB SHAND.

Battling Ortega will have to hand Jack Reeves a decisive whipping tonight at the Auditorium or his chances of getting a crack at Middleweight Champion Mike O'Dowd will go flooey. Back east they know all about Battling Ortega but they don't know anything about Jack Reeves, so if Greggains' fighter takes a fall out of the Battler it will be all off with the O'Dowd bout. Greggains, of course, knows all about the offer Ortega got to fight the champion in Detroit and Alex has laid his plans accordingly.

Should Reeves take the decision Greggains will streak for 12th and Broadway and file a telegram to the Detroit promoters telling them that Reeves just got through handing Ortega a whaling and would be tickled to death to meet Mr. O'Dowd in Detroit, Hayward, San Lorenzo or any other metropolis. Greggains knows that Ortega is a tough bird over the four-round route but Alex is taking the chance because it means a lot to Reeves should his youngster win the fight.

Ortega Is in Shape

Last time out the Battler put up a sloppy fight against the San Francisco fans. Ortega had no pep that night, lost his cool and force and he missed by the proverbial mile. His seconds claimed that he was a sick boy and should have been in the heat instead of the ring and that he would not have given Reeves a fine licking if they ever hooked up again. There were two who thought Manager Greggains would let the kid rest on his laurels, however, and he did both. Holding the four-round champion to a pretty good record and would have got the kid many a lucrative match but Greggains insisted on giving him a chance. The Battler, however, is in fighting trim now so that he will have no excuses to offer should Reeves win this evening.

Tractors Will Be Up There Says Wagner

By EDDIE MURPHY
While the three straight defeats received by the C. L. Best Tractor team is enough to start the fans talking that the team from the cherry town is going so speedy down the toboggan that it has no chance of reversing its trip and going back toward the top in the Oakland TRIBUNE class A division race, Bill Wagner and Toney Enos, directors of the club are willing to wager the team will finish one-two.

They are willing to admit that the Tractors have not played the class of ball in the last two Sundays that they did before and at the start of the season they themselves cannot account for the defeat except that they are not in the class of ball for the team to beat. The latest defeat came here last night.

Other losses: Jimmy Edwards, who is a boxer, beat Charlie Jones; Sammy Green defeated Joe Roone; Tommie Chan won from Marshall Book; Jimmy Pappas beat Charlie Jones; Eddie McKenna won from Ted Titus; Eddie Woodruff stopped Jack Dunn in one round.

SEATTLE, Dec. 10.—Charlie Jones, of the Athens Athletic club, can arrange to meet D. A. McKenna 549 Thirtieth street, or phone Piedmont 6292.

The Athens Athletic club's unlimited basketball team has written to various teams in and around the bay and expects to work out a good schedule for the next few weeks.

The following players will make the trip Wednesday night: Fullerton, Spencer, center; Brown, guard; Waddell, McNeely, Fitzsimmons and Oates.

Any team in the bay section deserves games. The Athens Athletic club team can arrange to meet the D. A. McKenna 549 Thirtieth street, or phone Piedmont 6292.

Health and Happiness Go Hand in Hand

Vigorous, Red-blooded Men and Women Get Most of Life's Joys and Benefits

Red Blood Is Source of Health;

Pepto-Mangan Creates Rich, Red Blood—Builds Up the Body

Benefits are Real

Nature never intended that any man or woman should be made unhappy with thin-worn-out, sluggish bodies.

Why, then, do men and women with poor thin blood (anemia) accept this condition, thinking that it is natural that they should remain this way? How unhappy such people make themselves and those around them! And it is all so unnecessary, for unless you suffer from some deep-seated ailment, you can soon remedy any form of poor health caused by thin, impoverished blood.

Pepto-Mangan is prepared just for such people. Pepto-Mangan contains the very elements that impart richness to the blood and increase the supply of the tiny red-blood cells that good healthy blood must contain.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Both forms are exactly alike in medicinal qualities. When you order Pepto-Mangan, be sure to ask the druggist for "Gude's." And look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If "Gude's" is not there, it is not Pepto-Mangan.

To Workers in the Shipyards, Commercial Shops and Manufacturing Plants of the San Francisco Bay District

More than 12,000 men have returned to work in the Shipyards and Commercial Shops of the San Francisco Bay District since they reopened, November 24th.

To restore this industry to the activity that was disbursing in this district more than $1,500,000 weekly in wages, we need more men.

When we reopened the yards and shops we announced that the men here, our former employees, would have first call on the jobs. We promised that no effort would be made until after December 3rd to invite men from other industrial centers.

This time has elapsed and this is to notify you that on Monday there appeared advertisements in the newspapers of the Northwest, Southern California and Eastern industrial centers calling the attention of mechanics to the opportunities that existed here.

The advertisements read as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO OFFERS SKILLED MECHANICS STEADY WORK

The shipyards and commercial shops of San Francisco and adjacent cities, which were closed October 1, 1919, by a general strike, which still exists, reopened November 24 on the "American" or "Open Shop" plan.

Announcement was made to the men that ten days would be given them to return to their employment; that if they did not return permanent places would be offered to workmen from other localities. More than 12,000 men are now working. We need more, and positions are now open to many thousand men at the following basic wages:

Moulders, coremakers, machinists, shipfitters, boilermakers, riveters and caulkers, 80 cents an hour; patternmakers, 94 cents; coppersmiths, 86 cents. Positions open to experienced foremen and assistant foremen at advanced rates.

Yards and shops offer steady employment to qualified men—union or non-union—without discrimination.

Good wages under living conditions—cost of living lowest in the country, climate makes it possible to work 365 days in the year; good schools; unequalled climate and healthful place for children.

For further particulars apply Metal Trades Clearance Bureau, 228 Sheldon building, San Francisco, California.

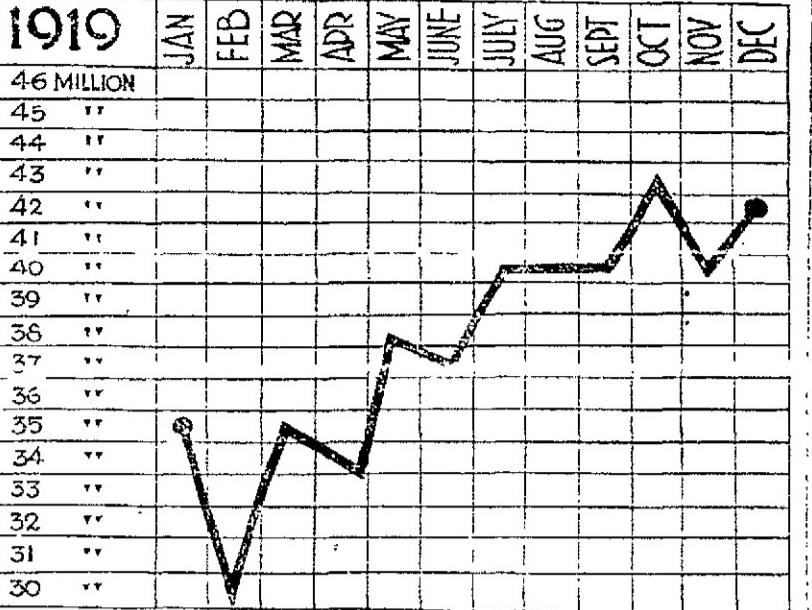

We announced our purpose to operate shipyards and commercial shops. We are doing this and will continue.

It is because enough of you have not returned to enable us to operate at full capacity that we have offered, as we said we would, permanent jobs to mechanics from the outside.

Many men from the North, Southern California and the East are daily being put to work and each of you will have no one to blame but himself if, later, you find your old place filled.

It's up to you.

Oakland bank clearings for the first ten months of 1919 increased $13,000,000 in round numbers, according to figures compiled today by George E. Stepler, manager of the Oakland Clearing House Association. The clearings at the beginning of the year totaled approximately $20,000,000, climbing to $13,000,000 by the end of October. Some fluctuation is shown in the accompanying graphic chart, due in part to the number of holidays in certain months, but generally the upward climb has been steady. These figures show that the financial pulse of Oakland is always steady, local bankers say.
